Clubs, Programs, and Cultures

Chess Club

Every school needs one! The chess club competes every few weeks against OTHER school chess teams. Bet you didn't know that.

WINFO (Women's Info)

WINFO is a club that is open to all students. They meet every Tuesday after school in room 511. Our goal is to raise awareness about women's issues in our own small community and in the global community because a heightened awareness will lead to activism and change. As a group, they host films and encourage discussion, create artistic, and informative bulletin boards, support local and regional causes affecting women, and participate in various activities.

Seabreezes

Submit your talent to seabreezes@mvyps.org

Seabreezes is MVRHS's only literary and art magazine. It comes out at the end of each school year and it is student-run, so everything put in the magazine was chosen by your fellow students! Kids from all grades work hard to choose the best of the art and writing submitted by students at MVRHS.

Snow Club

Snow club is a club dedicated to people who enjoy the winter time and being in the snow. Snow club takes an annual ski trip, so if you're into skiing or snowboarding, sign up for next year's snow club!

Presidents: Julie Pringle & Nick Jerome

Senior Board Members:
Chelsea Counsell, Brianna Davies, Lonni Phillips, Ashley Drake, Micah Agnoli, Jake Ferry, Win Grimm, Maggie Howard, Sarah Hall, Taylor Perrotta, Shaelah Huntington, Martha Scheffer, Taylor Chisholm, Pete Persson, Austin Gampfer, Abbey Entner

Art Club is held on Tuesdays from 2:10 to 3:30. Club enrollees are working in clay and painting as extra projects and some students are in the computer rooms. All MVRHS students and their instructors are invited to share in the space and work time on projects related to any other classes or other teachers assignments. Each year students work towards a goal to make a donation to a worthy cause.

Science Club

Meet with Capt. Nelson to explore the realm of science more in depth. Take nature walks, disect, and collect specimens... Get your hands dirty in Science Club!

Cultura Club

Cultura Club is a group focused on learning more about Latin American culture. This year we are learning the Afro-Brazilian art of Capoeira which combines martial arts, dance, music, and acrobats. We also cook authentic food and have dance lessons. Cultura Club is held on Thurs-days right after school.

Model U.N.

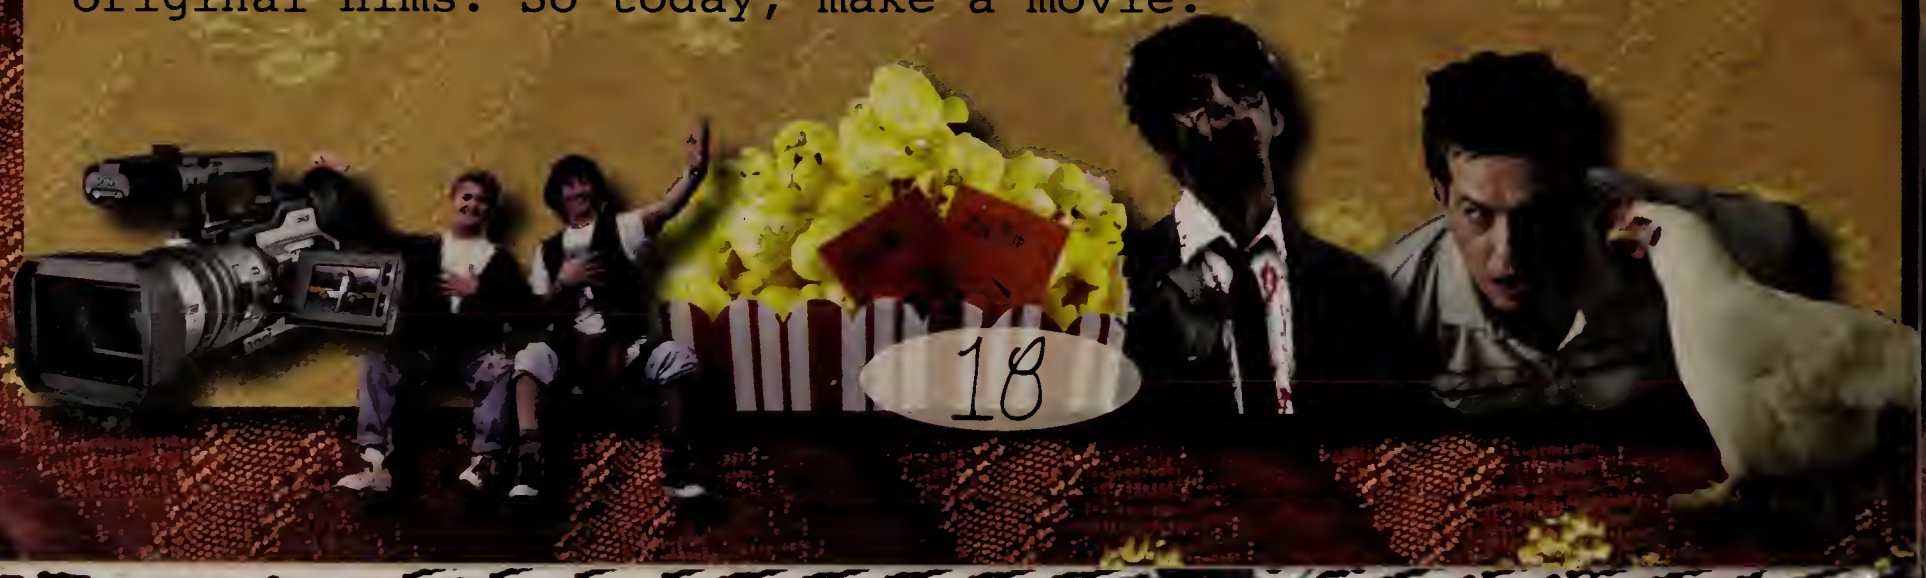

Model United Nations (MUN) is an annual conference at which key activities of various United Nations bodies are simulated. Representing a variety of countries, students – better known as "delegates" in MUN – sit in on General Assembly committees, the Security Council, the Economic and Social Council, the International Press Delegation, and the International Court of Justice. By attending these key activities, students have the opportunity to explore a wide range of current global issues, such as those concerning international conflicts, terrorism, nuclear weapons, HIV/AIDS, human rights, the population, poverty, trade, energy, globalization, and the environment.

Fishing Club

Members discuss issues in fishing every week. They talk about what's new with fishing and what people are doing in the fishing industry. Tournaments are held and members compete against other members in the club. Prizes are awarded for the biggest fish in any species that is caught.

This club goes on many field trips and covers everything you need to know about fishing, including fishing basics, fishing hot spots, types of bait, inshore, offshore, and ice fishing, as well as different types of fish.

There are plenty of chances to meet great new people that had the same feelings about fishing as you. If you like to fish this is a club for you. This club will accept students in grades 9-12. Beginners are welcome because the goal is to educate all club members.

International Students

"Coming to America was an Experience I will never forget. Even having many difficult and hard moments I've learned to be a better person. Things I never thought I would go through made me understand that the wold is much bigger and that simple experiences can change a whole way of thinking. I am very glad I came to America when I was eleven, because I was able to learn the language the culture, and adapt to the new environment easily. When I look back and see that all the experiences were worth it, I thank my parents for bringing me here. When I look forward to my future, I have hope that all the important things I learned will benefit me. America was the path I took that opened my mind to being a better person."

~ Fernanda Silva

Bruno thinks that the cultures are very different. Starting with the food,music, and the way people dress. Also the way important dates are celebrated. The major difference is the language. He's been living here for a short period of time, but he likes it a lot. He's been adapting very easily to the new environment, He has met new people. He says it's practically a new life for him.

The experience that I had coming here was very good. I had always wanted to visit another country. On the beginning everything was different, everything was news to me. With the experience I had coming here, I learned a new way of living. I started working and became a more independent person."

"I was born and raised here in the U.S, both of my parents are Brazilian. I went to Brazil with my mom and my brothers when I was 9 years old. It's been almost 2 years that I've been back in the U.S. I still have some trouble speaking and understanding the language."

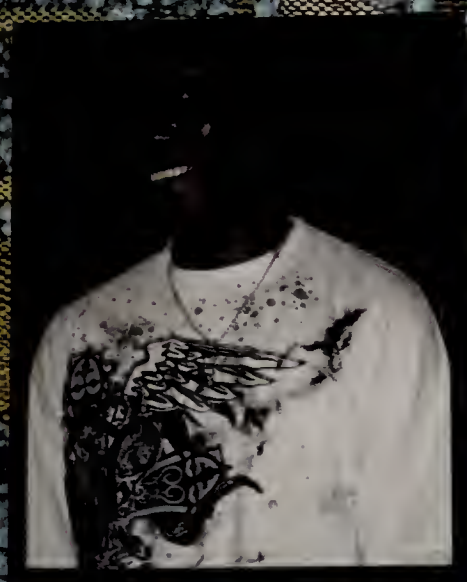

~ Alana Trindade

"Je'Voughn is from Jamaica, he came to the US on his freshmen year. It was a great experience for him because of the opportunities he got. He says that the culture of Jamaica is very different because of the gangs and the violence he had to go through.

He has a better life in the USA because when he was in Jamaica he was going through the hardship of the streets. By just walking on the street someone could jump on you and rob you or something. In America I have seen difference in violence."

Minnes

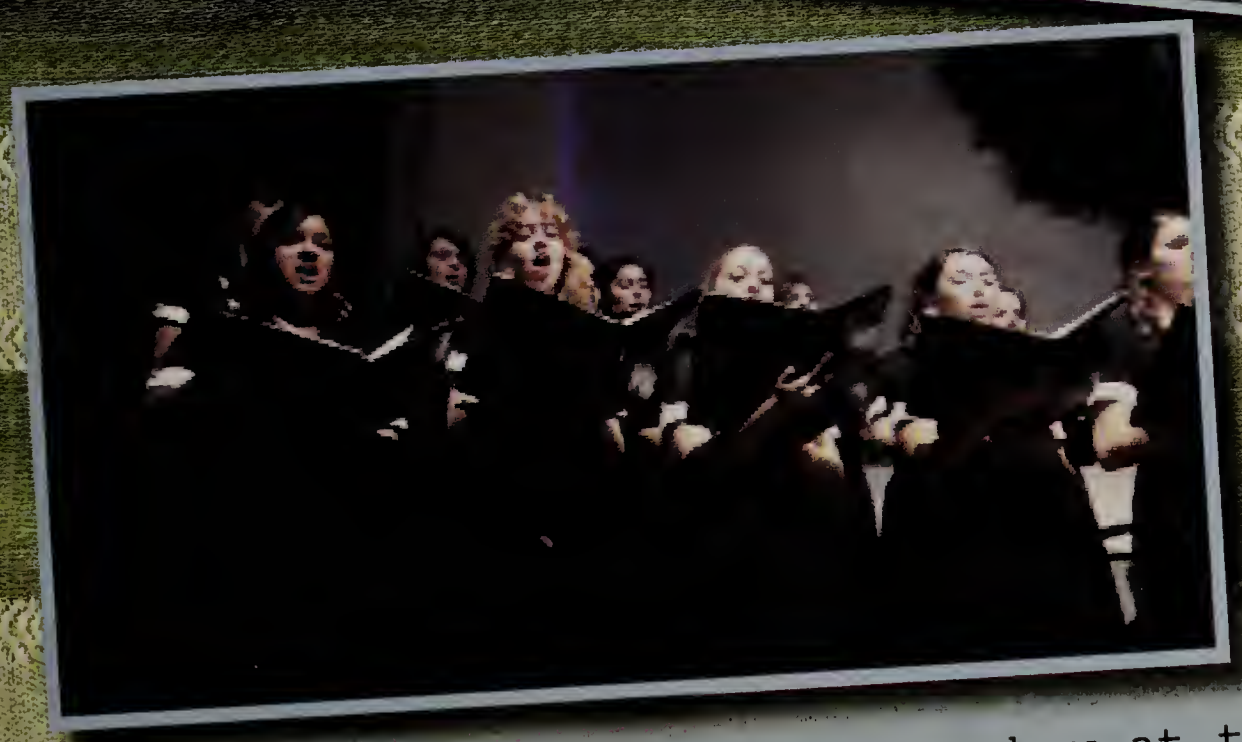

The Minnesingers is an exclusive chorus made up of the most talented high school singers on Martha's Vineyard. They work extrememly hard every week to perfect their songs. Most practice nights, Minnesingers practice until 10:00 at night. Every two years, the Minnesingers travel to a foreign country to sing for people all over the world. In 2008, they traveled to Austria and in April 2010 the group spent a week in Prague.

i n g e r s

Minnesingers 2009 Winter show at the Old Whaling Church on Main Street, Edgartown.

Katie Mayhew

Expect to hear singing when Maggie and Katie are together

Well I dont know how old I was when I started singing but I know that my first "public performance" was when I was 5 at my great grandmother's funeral. I sang Kum Bye Ya. I took voice lessons from when I was 8 up till I was 16. Singing has always been a primary passion of mine. As of now I'm not planning on making it a career but who knows.

If all my other career plans fail and I'm living in a card board box on a street corner I'd probably give it a try.

This year I probably did about 7 performances. I kind of hate performing. Yeah I always get nervous before a show but I loosen up as the night goes on..

I do like being known for my singing both in and outside the school.

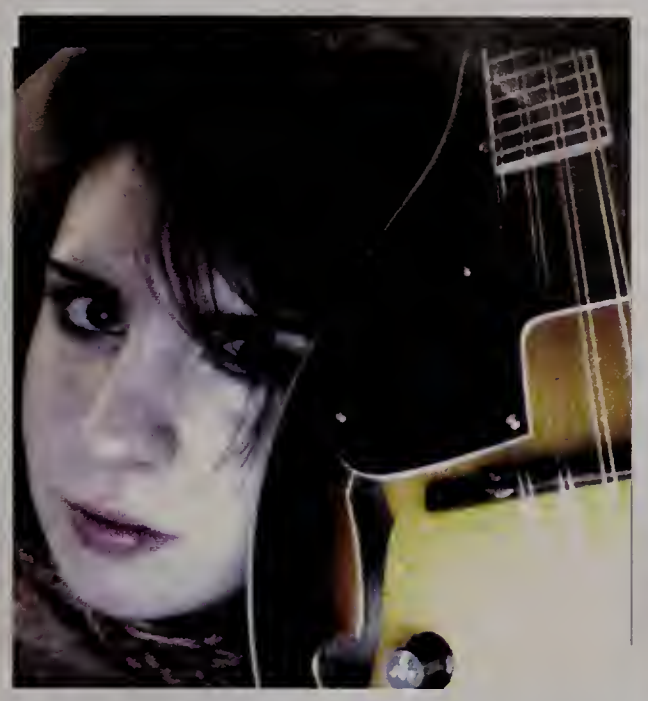

People I really admire for their vocal talent are Bernadette Peters, Elvis Presley, Barbra Streisand, and Regina Spektor. My favorite style of music to sing is Broadway, particularly Stephen Sondheim, I have written a lot of songs but I haven't yet built up enough courage to perform many of them live.

My dream for life? Well, as corny as it sounds, my dream for my life is to be happy because honestly, if you think about it, what could be better?

Maggie Howard

"I'd rather perform in front of a thousand people than in front of five. It's so awkward! But I always love playing for people no matter how big the crowd."

I remember when my mom first showed me her Yamaha acoustic guitar that she played in the eighties, and I always would try to play it. I really picked it up when I was twelve. My mom absolutely couldn't stand the twangy sound of the thing, so for 8th grade graduation, my parents bought me the Seagull that I play now. I got into violin for a few years, but that never stuck.

I do play mandolin, though,
which is much like the violin.

I learned how to play acoustic guitar using a cheap little chord book that I got in my stocking for Christmas one year. That little booklet is really the reason I took up guitar and stayed with it.

It was so challenging to learn the chords and I never thought I would be able to quickly change chords or anything like that. I remember how much my fingertips hurt the first month I taught myself to play. I'm surprised they never bled! You have to press so hard on the fret board to get a solid note to come out when you strum.

The way my muscles have memorized so many movements and changes and progressions has never ceased to amaze me. I was so hopeless in the beginning. My fingers are totally worn in. I could play songs in my sleep. It's gotten to the point that I can hear the chords in my head and incorporate them with songs on the radio.

I haven't played many shows, per se, but I always participate in evening of the arts. It's a rush to be on stage. My first live performance was at the Oak Bluffs School talent show and I sang "Love Song" by Pink. I remember it was eleven o'clock at night and I was the last act and more than half of the audience had filed out by then (elementary school, go figure). One thing I'll never forget is watching the guy who was supposed to play drums for my act walk out of the building while putting on his coat. I remember going up to my mom who was in the audience and saying to her "Mom, I really don't want to do this anymore". It sucked because I took it personally that people had left before my act. It just felt stupid to me to play in front of 70 people because I'd really wanted the full-audience effect. I played anyway, and the people who were there seemed to really appreciate it.

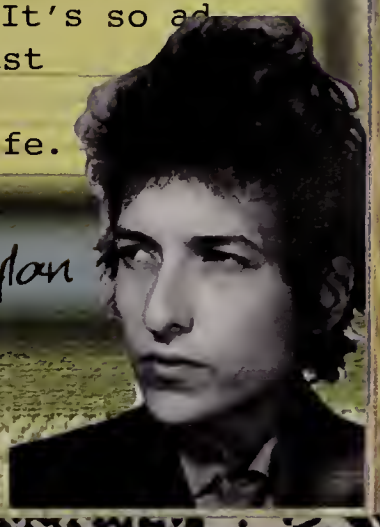

I've written a bunch of songs. Only a few are recorded. I use Garageband to record my stuff. That program is probably the main reason I bought my laptop. It's so advanced, and the sound quality is awesome for a computer. I spend at least an hour a day on my guitar.

I plan to continue playing and singing for the rest of my life.

TENNIS

The boys tennis team reached the semi-finals of the state-tournament this year for division 3. They received a number 3 seed which constituted a first-round bye. They won their next match to advance to the semi-finals before falling eventually to the #2 seed Dover-Sherbon. This is the farthest the MVRHS Tennis team has ever gone in a state tournament. Coach Ned Fenessy also recorded his 200th career win in 20 seasons, and won the division 3 coach of the year award. The tennis team also went 7-1 in the EAC league and unofficially won the title. Since the team wasn't an official member of the EAC until the next season it didn't count.

Swine Flu (H1N1)

In late April 2009, a swine flu epidemic hit the U.S. and Mexico. The virus, known as influenza Type A H1N1, causes a respiratory, flu-like infection of pigs and can accidentally infect humans who are in close contact with pigs harboring the virus. Mutations in the DNA of the virus can lead to person-to-person spread and potentially lead to epidemics of global proportions. People began to wear masks and sanitize their hands all the time. People were paranoid of getting the disease and raced to be the first in line to get the shot or nasal spray.

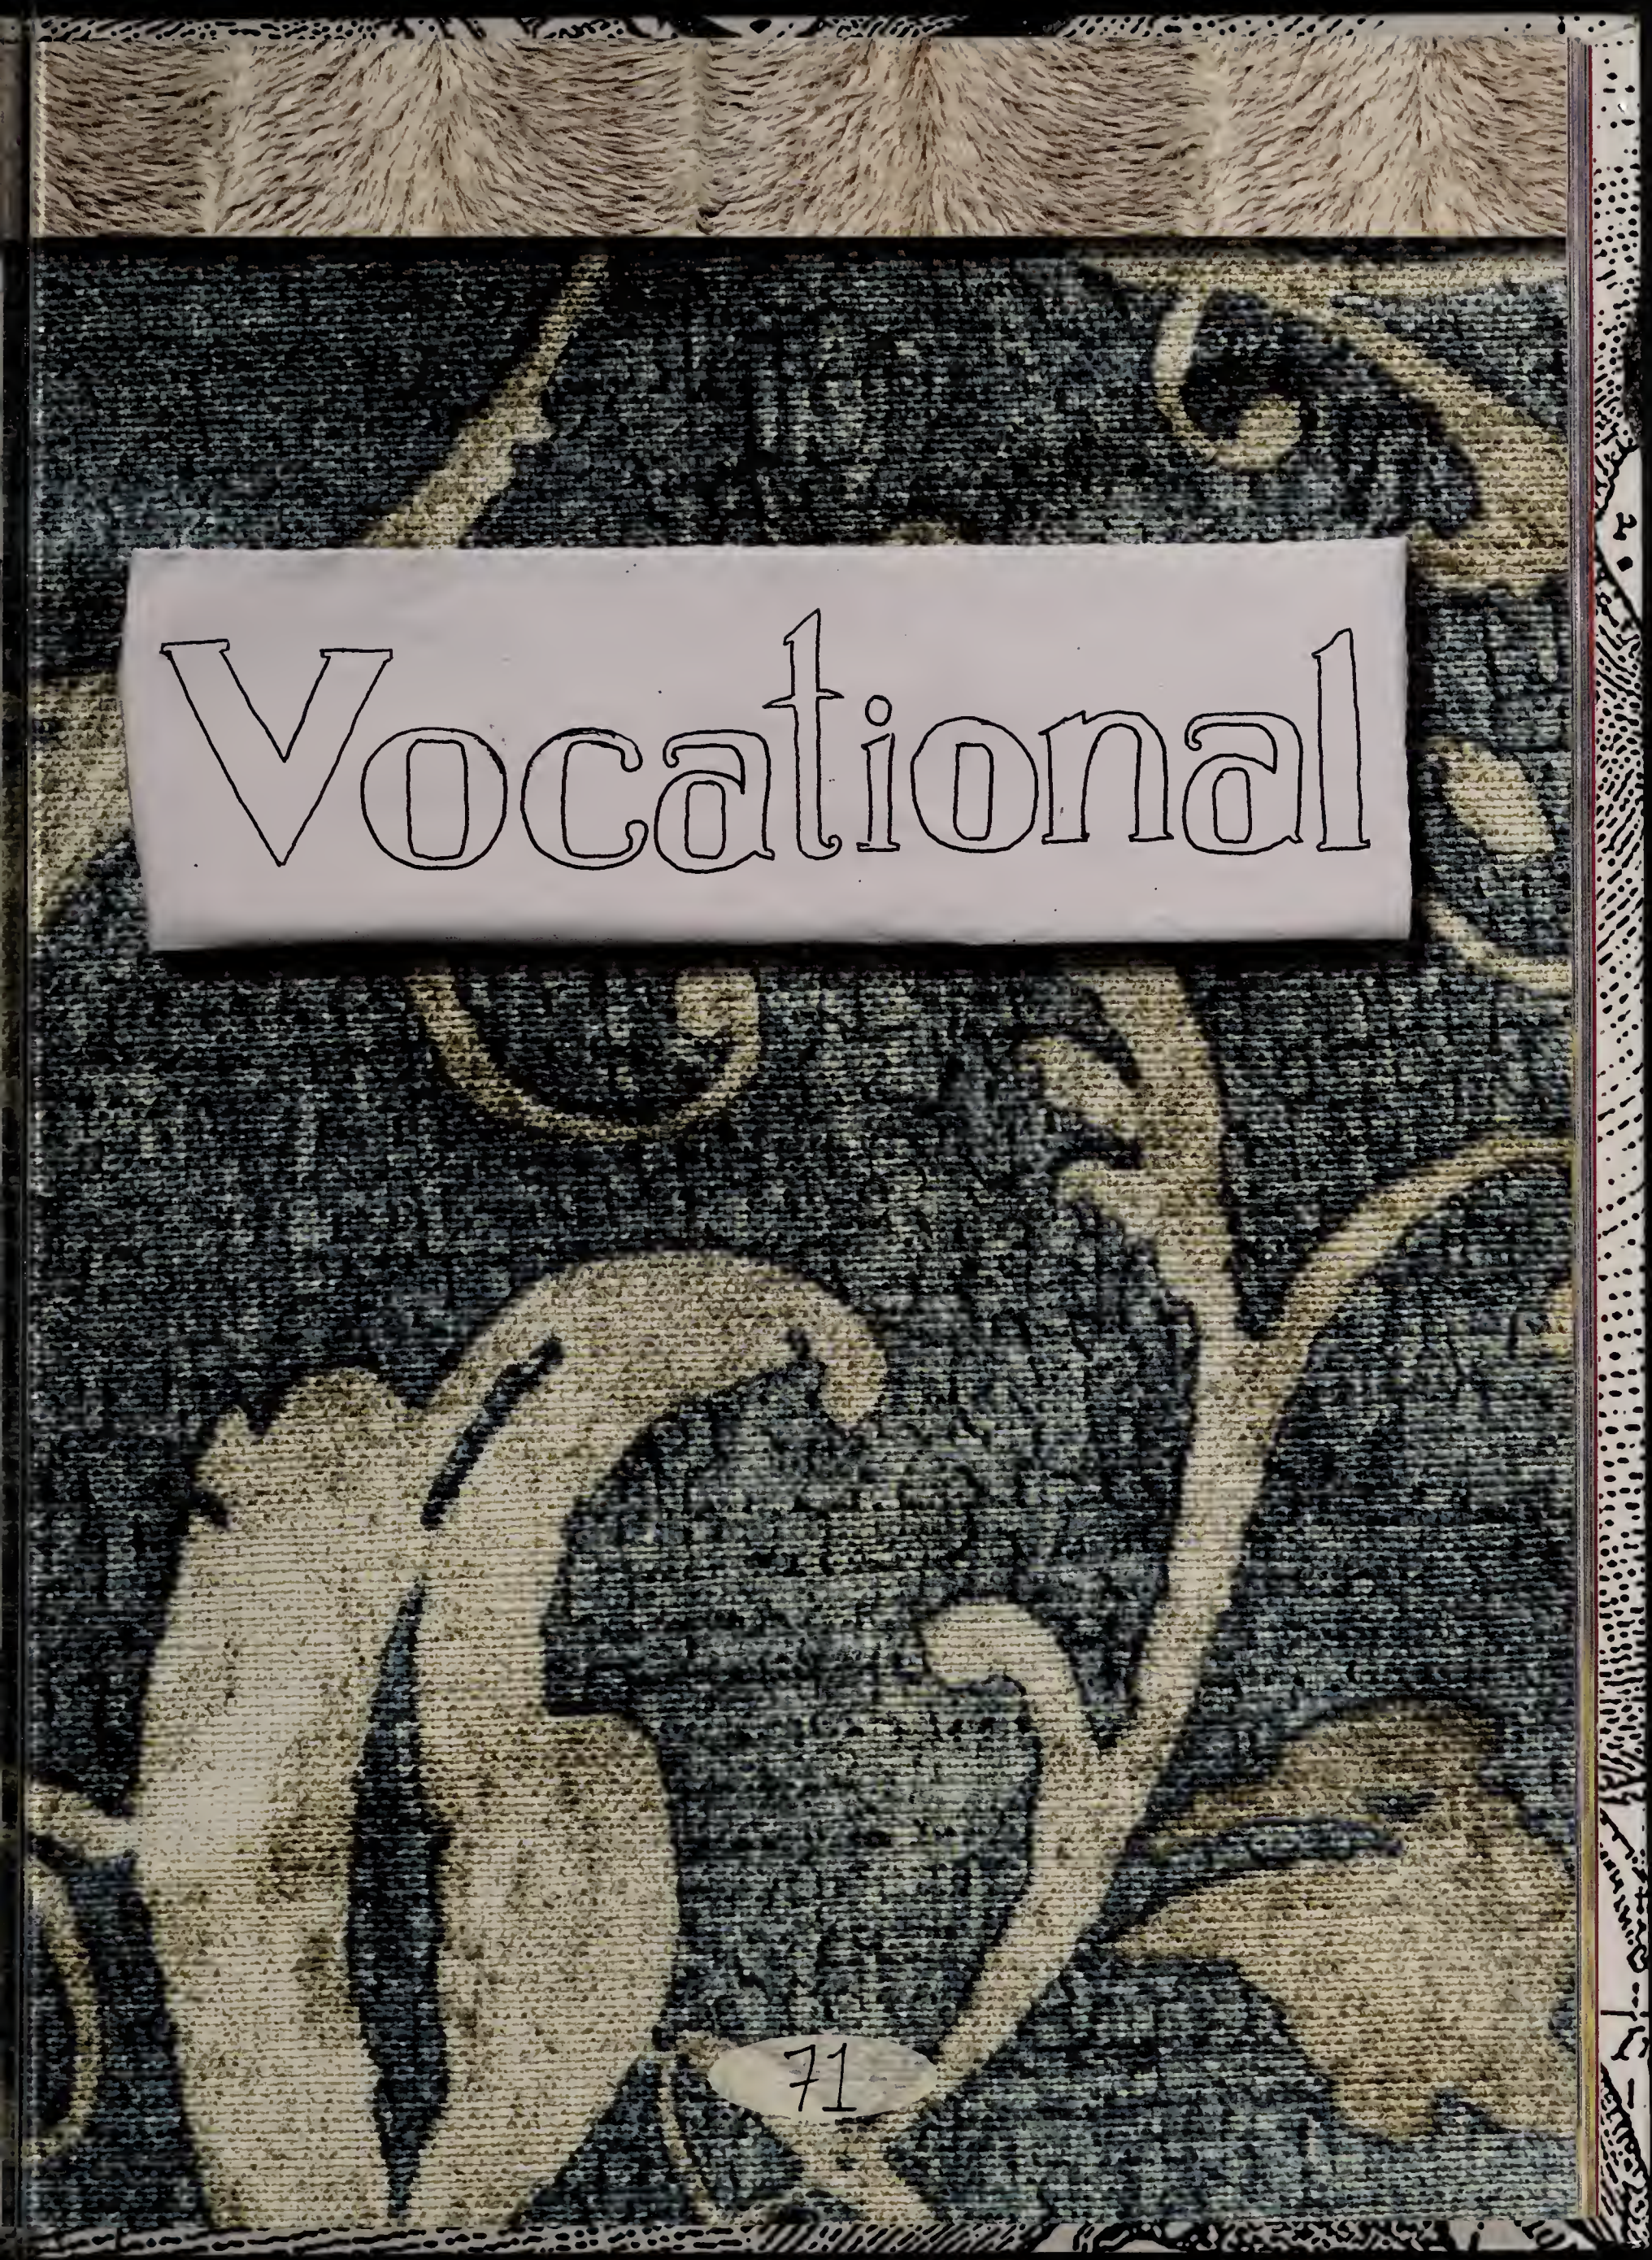

Phenomenon of the Year:

FarmVille is a real-time farm simulation game developed by Zynga, as an application on Facebook. The game allows members of Facebook to manage a virtual farm by planting, growing and harvesting virtual crops, trees, and raising livestock. Since its launch in June 2009, FarmVille has become the most popular game application on Facebook, with over 82.7 million active users and over 22.5 million fans in February 2010. The total FarmVille users are over 20% of the users of Facebook and over 1% of the population of the world.

Vocational

Building Trades

ADVISOR: MR. SEABOURNE

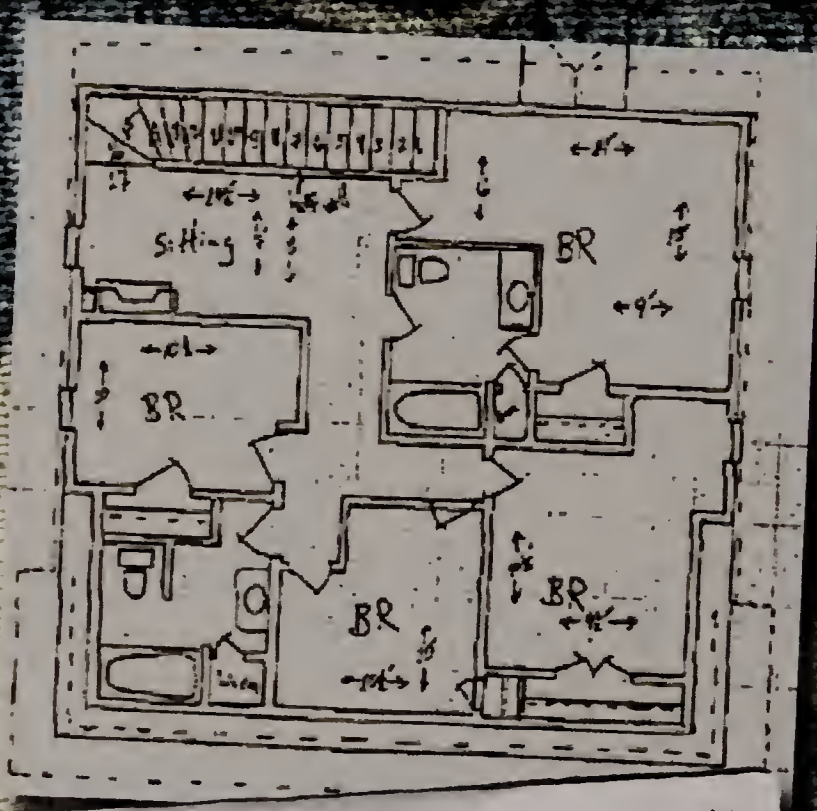

Building trades students meet to learn all about wood frame, construction, and tools. They also study the handling and care of basic power tools. Building trades kids get to learn the main methods of constructing buildings so that as adults, they can choose use their skills to make a living.

CRAFTSMAN

DEWALT

BOSCH

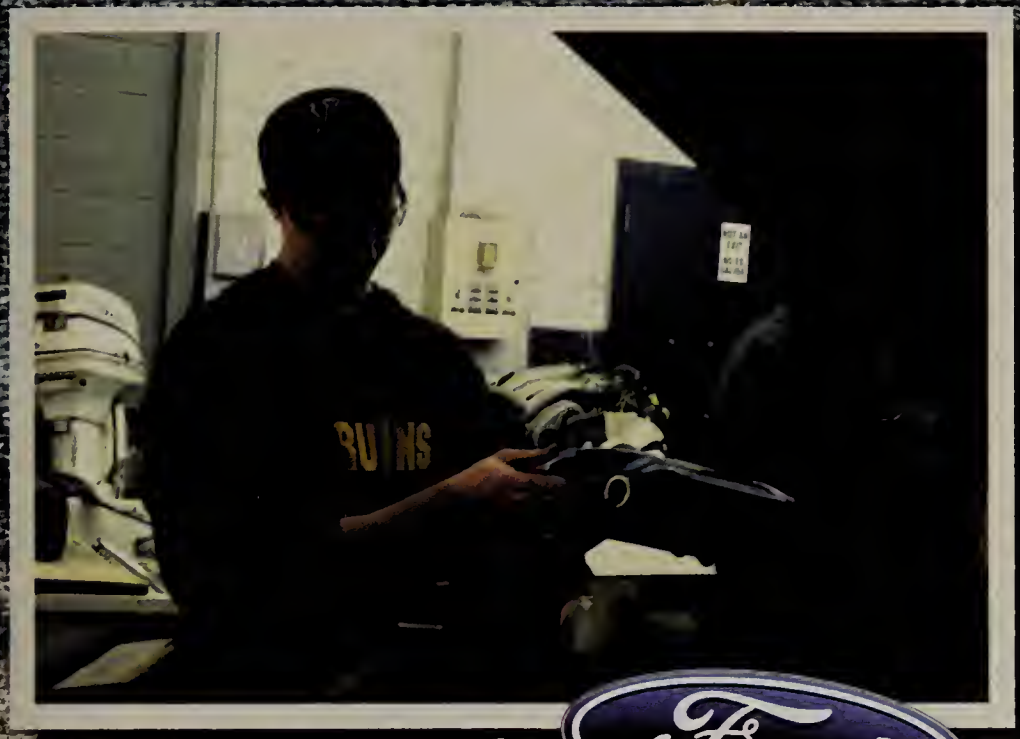

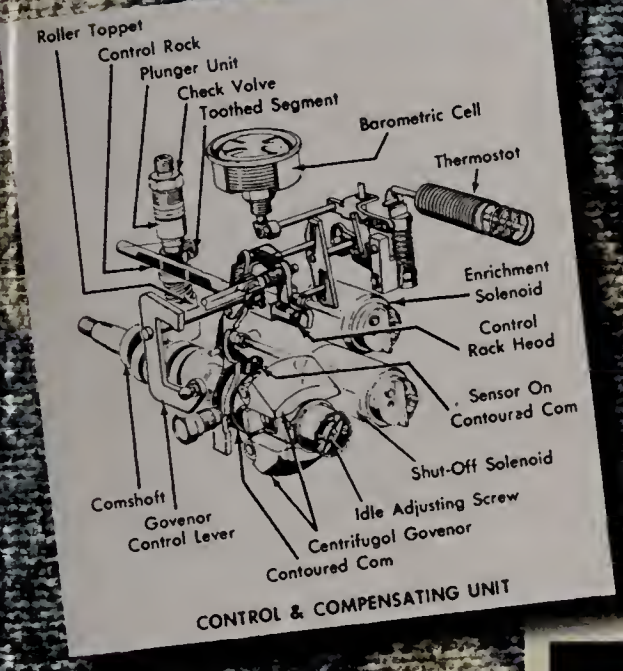

A bunch of Mr. Seabourne's students move on to be contractors or architects after they graduate.

Automotive

ADVISOR: MR. CANHA

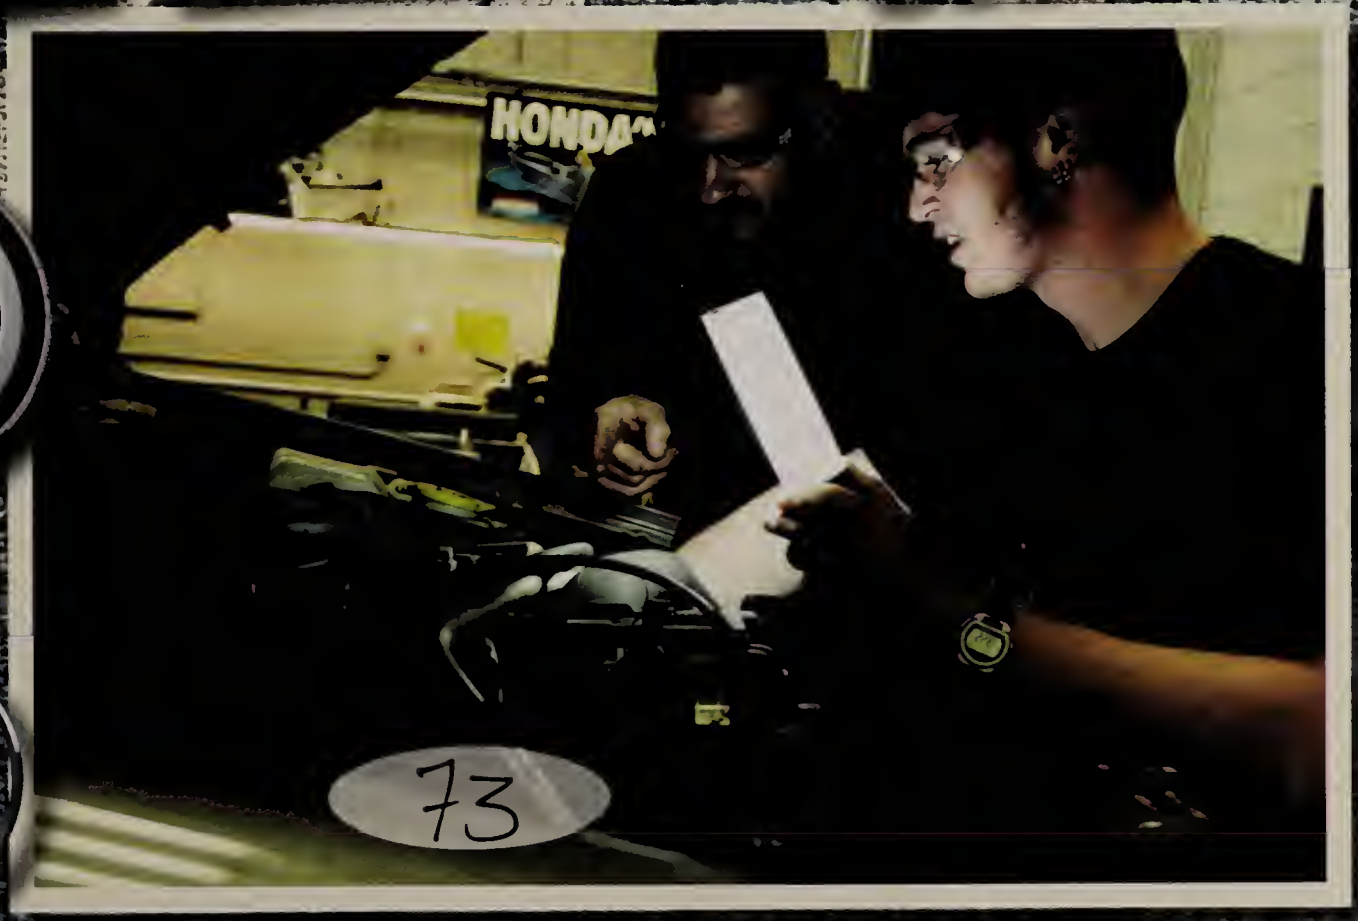

Students who study the automotive trade learn A to Z about cars. By the time they graduate, automotive students can fix almost anything wrong with a car and they can move on to get an automotive engineering certificate.

CONTROL & COMPENSATING UNIT

Culinary

ADVISOR: CHEF O'MALLEY

Culinary kids get a more in-depth overview of the culinary arts area. Students perfect their skills in baking, vegetable and fruit preparation, meat, fish, and poultry preparation, and soups, sauces, and dessert preparation. Some of Chef O'Malley's students move on to attend schools like the Culinary Institute of America.

STUDENT PROFILE: ELI DAGOSTINO

Eli was born in Boston in the year 1995. He is currently a freshman in high school. His parents moved to Martha's Vineyard when he was a year old.

Eli grew up on the island and attended the West Tisbury school in Kindergarten. He then moved to the heart of NYC, Manhattan, where he went to Mid-Town West P.S. 212. He ended up living there with his family for three and a half years.

NYC is where Eli's acting career took off. He had the opportunities to work on SNL with Dan Akroid and Beyoncé, as well as working on the radio, TV commercials, and of course, Blues Clues! He also lived in NYC when 9/11 occured.

In 2006 and 2009 he had the honor of attending two conferences. These conferences were leadership conferences that specific kids were invited to. The first one was based on leadership skills, and the second one was for alumni.

The conference in 2009 attended Barack Obama's Inauguration. In the middle of his freshman year, Eli was given the opportunity to take part in a conference in St. Lucia. This conference was about eco-tourism with the world's islands in mind. He was the Martha's Vineyard youth representative.

Eli and his family moved back to the Vineyard when he was nine years old, and he's been here ever since. He lives in Island Co-Housing in West Tisbury.

STUDENT PROFILE

Nina Levin

Nina Levin is a native Islander from Vineyard Haven. Her parents have lived here since back in the day when they were hippies. Her prominent influence is her sister. On the weekends, Nina likes to cook, hang out, and take pictures with her friends.

Nina really enjoys cooking and the arts, and hopes to pursue a career in both of these areas. When she graduates, she's interested in going to schools like California college of the arts, Pratt, Johnson and Wales, and Le Cordon Bleu. She likes these schools because they focus on things that she loves to do.

Nina's favorite classes are Creative Writing with Mr. Sharkovitz, Drawing and Painting with Janice, and Crafts and Sculpture with Mr. Campbell. "I like all these classes because they all let me allow myself to create things that mean something to me." Since Nina is graduating early this year, she only has room in her schedule for Culinary Arts, which she has been participating in since Freshman year, and Drawing and Painting.

Nina's favorite years of high school were freshman year and junior year. " I liked this year because I know the school better and i got to try all the teachers Ive heard so much about. Freshman year was really good as well, I loved that everything was so new and terrifying! But it was still a lot of fun! Junior year has been so fun and more interesting...though I'm not really sure why its been so fun, but I think it has something to do with being older, and being able to state opinions and have proper discussions in class. Most teachers treat you as adults now, not as much as freshman year...Also we have a lot more freedom, and we have more choices about what classes we want to take." Even though Nina likes Junior Year, 10. it seems to her that it's been the most difficult. "...or I think it will be the most difficult. I have so much homework every night I never think I'll get through it...But it pays off in the end and its pretty rewarding most of the time."

Although Nina likes it here, she would like to change the "pass" rule, as well as allow students with cars the opportunity to get lunch off-campus. " I would like to see even more art classes and music classes like piano and such."

On Mondays and Tuesdays after school, you can find Nina at Newspaper Club and Art club. Nina loves photography, and sometimes you can see her photos published in the High School View.

Ever since she was little, Nina has wanted to travel to Antarctica where she could experience the Aurora Borealis (Northern Lights) and the snow. She loves the snow and skiing, making Winter her favorite time of year. Some of her favorite movies are Fargo, The Labyrinth, Amelie, and Almost Famous.

She also really likes the Coen Brothers' films. As far as reading goes, a few of many books Nina likes are Into the Wild, The Harry Potter series, One Flew Over the Coocoos nest, and A Clockwork Orange.

Student Profiles: PHOEBE KELLEHER & PATRICK HA

Phoebe Kelleher was born in Falmouth, Massachusetts and Moved to Martha's Vineyard a few days after she was born. She lives in Edgartown and attended the Edgartown School. Life at home is hectic fo Phoebe, her parents are divorced and she has four sisters and two brothers. She spends her time pl ing as a Center on the Girl's Varisty Ice Hockey Team and also enjoys photography and volunteering.

"Nervous and excited" were the words Phoebe used to describe herself going into freshman yea She hoped to do well in high school and to find where she fit in. Once she was into her freshman year it wasn't what she expected, "I discovered photography and volunteering. I never really thought I'd into things like that."

Advice for Future Freshman:
"Be open to anything, don't try to define yourself."

Phoebe is graduating in January and is going to Tanzania and Kenya in March for two months. She will be volunteering all over the country in places like schools, orphanages, and wildlife reserves. She also hopes to learn about the country and culture. After Tanzania, she plans to attend college in the Fall of 2010, and hopes her African experience will help her figure out what she wants to do. "Everyone says it will change my perspective on everything." says Phoebe, "I'm just curious as to how it will."

Reflecting on her high school experience, Phoebe says it has made her realize whats important, and it has made her a lot more sarcastic and outgoing. "I guess high school has taught me that things are always changing and you can't live in the past. You need to focus on who you want to be."

Born in Fairfax, Virginia, Patrick Hart moved here in fourth grade. He attended the West Tisbury school and is the oldest child in his family with two younger sisters. He loves to play lacrosse, hang out with is friens, listen to music, eat, and watch movies.

Patrick was "curious" going into his freshman year. "I just heard so many stories, then finally got my own experience." Freshman year ended up being what he expected. Sports were the most fun for his during his freshman year. "Everything was new so it didn't seem like such a drag."

Advice for future freshman:
"Come into high school accepting. Don't have a pre judged view. Take everything in, then decide what you want to do."

Four years at West Point Military Academy is what lies ahead for Patrick. He was recruited over the summer to play lacrosse there. "I want to have an important job when I'm older, and all my life I've looked up to soldiers. I want to go to work everyday for a reason. What we have is definitly worth fighting for." Patrick wants the best education he can get, which he believes he will find at West Point. He plans to take full advantage of all the opportunities West Point offers.

Over the course of his high school career, Patrick has learned how to be dedicated and have priorities. Friends have been the biggest part of high school for him. "You have to make mistakes to learn. Always have a goal because that's what gets you through everything."

The path of the righteous man is beset on all sides by the inequities of the selfish, and the tyranny of evil men. Blessed is he who in the name of charity and good will, shepherds the weak through the valley of darkness, for he is truly his brother's keeper, and the finder of lost children. And I will strike down upon thee with great vengeance and furious anger, those who attempt to poison and destroy my brothers. And you will know my name is the Lord when I lay my vengeance upon thee.

Congratulations, Michael!

Last, but not least!

I hope you never lose your sense of wonder You get your fill to eat but always keep that hunger May you never take one single breath for granted God forbid love ever leave you empty I hope you dance I hope you never lose sight of things that matter Distance Never settle for the path of least resistance Living might be a mistake But it's worth making Don't be afraid to love Don't be afraid to be loved Don't be afraid to try Time is a real and constant motion always flowing us towards the future or the past Tell me who will be there to hold you when you're afraid I hope you are there when you're not I hope you stay I hope you run I hope you never know all the reasons why people pray Or why they kneel Or why they cry I hope you never look back unless it's to help someone who needs you to Or to learn from mistakes Or to see how far you've come I hope you forgive Forgive those who've caused you pain Forgive those who gave you shame Forgive those you hate most of all Forgive yourself for the things you've done I hope you're not afraid to say goodbye Even if it means losing someone you can't live without I hope you know that there are worse things in life than death There are memories that should never fade There are promises that should never be broken And there are dreams that should never die
